Emilia O'Neill-Baker, Ph.D. is the founder and CEO of Khaeron Consulting, LLC and an internationally licensed psychologist/counselor, educator, trainer, speaker, and consultant. She has a distinguished career in mental health care, education, and consulting for leadership and change management in the United States and Latin America. Dr. O'Neill-Baker has helped thousands of individuals achieve their personal, academic, and professional goals, as well as develop healthy lifestyles and workplaces. She is an expert guest speaker for several television and radio shows in Texas.

Dr. O'Neill-Baker has been in charge of restructuring, creating, and directing clinical counseling centers for higher education institutions in New Mexico and Texas, where she has created and implemented several mental health and wellness outreach programs, as well as trained and supervised psychology and counseling master's and doctoral students.

While holding progressively responsible training and counseling positions at different schools, universities, and community colleges in Mexico and the United States, Dr. O'Neill-Baker started her own consulting company. For more than 20 years she has maintained a private clinical practice and has served as a trainer and consultant for family businesses, transnational corporations, government, and nonprofit institutions in the areas of leadership, change management, and employee assistance and wellness programs.

Dr. O'Neill-Baker obtained a Bachelor's Degree in Psychology, summa cum laude, from the Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México (National Autonomous University of Mexico), Mexico City, Mexico; a Master's in Management and Organizational Development, summa cum laude, from Alliant University, San Diego, California/Mexico City, Mexico; a specialization in Gestalt and Humanistic Therapy from the Instituto Humanista de Terapia Gestalt (Institute of Humanistic and Gestalt Therapy), Mexico City, Mexico; and her Doctorate in Counselor Education and Educational Psychology from Texas A&M – Corpus Christi, Texas. She is certified in addictions treatment, emotional intelligence systems, stress management, psychological first aid, and crisis intervention.

As a bilingual and bicultural consultant, she does trainings and develops educational materials for aha! Process in English and Spanish.

Dr. O'Neill-Baker firmly believes in the ability that we human beings have to adapt constantly, face adversity, and manage stress in a healthy way. She is convinced we can transform ourselves to reach our highest potential and live joyful lives through awareness, self-acceptance, significant learning, and education.
