

Regina Lewis

With 15 years of experience in leadership development, Dr. Regina Lewis has served diverse clientele—from executives to scholars, government agencies, educational institutions, and nonprofits. Through her travels, Lewis has been immersed in many cultures, both nationally and internationally; her work has taken her to Asia, the Middle East, Europe, and across the United States.

Dr. Lewis began her extensive work in the area of families and individuals in need as a team member of counselors at the Women's Resource Agency and as the board chair for Pikes Peak Community Action Agency. She currently sits on the executive Metro YMCA board of Colorado Springs and Cheyenne Mountain Civic Solutions (CMCS).

At Pikes Peak Community College, Dr. Lewis is the chair of the Communications Department; assistant dean of communications, humanities and technical studies; and director of the Women's Forum. She holds a doctorate in educational leadership, research, and policy; a master's degree in communication; and two bachelor's degrees, one in communication and another in psychology, all from the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs. She has been published in books, journals, and higher educational textbooks. She is certified in Myers Briggs, Workplace Big 5, Firo Business, CCL NCO 360, and Emotional Quotient Inventory (EQ-1).
